

Account Manager, Hong Kong/Tokyo

You have a passion to lead

Accountability makes you happy. Being in the thick of the action and making a difference are exhilarating for you. You relish the opportunity to advise clients and solve difficult problems while working in collaboration with some very smart and experienced teammates.

The Hoffman Agency is an international public relations and integrated marketing communications company that crafts stories to build brands.

We are seeking high-energy, Intelligent and ambitious account managers who love working in a collaborative environment and have a passion to lead. Must have a sense of humor and appetite for working in a positive team environment.

If you like where this story is leading, read on.

The Plot Thickens: Job Description

- Media relations: Drive strategy for media pitching, maintain a network of media contacts, deliver signature stories, host media briefings, and provide counsel to spokespersons
- Integrated communications: Oversee strategy and execution for integrated communications that cover traditional PR, digital and social
- Content creation: Ensure consistent tone and accuracy of content, review key content pieces (such as press releases Q&A documents, bylines), and drive development of key messages and PR plans for clients
- Reporting: Oversee and review all reporting efforts, track results against annual goals, and drive client satisfaction
- Client relations: Serve as point person and trusted partner with clients, providing counsel and setting expectations for program execution; maintain proactive attitude, responsibility and perspective that continually advances the quality of work
- Account leadership: Oversee day-to-day account activities with speed and accuracy, track account budget and service levels, and provide input on staffing hours
- New business: Contribute to RFPs and pitch decks, and participate in new business presentations

- Mentorship/training: Serve as a direct manager to junior staff, and provide constructive feedback to help staff grow and advance in their careers at Hoffman

Attributes of the Protagonist (That's You)

- Creative
- Critical thinker
- Leader
- Team player
- Accountable
- Entrepreneurial nature and attitude
- Passionate about public relations and writing
- Passionate about technology/social media
- Excited to continually learn new things
- Curious
- Initiative
- SENSE OF HUMOR
- Teamwork
- Organized
- Inclusive

The Hero's Background: Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree in Business, PR/Advertising, Communications, Journalism or Linguistics
- Have a minimum of 5-8 years of experience in client relationship management and media relations
- Demonstrate superior writing and verbal communication skills
- Engage in assisting the Agency's growth
- Continually strive to understand technology
- Be fluent in written and spoken English and Chinese/Japanese (required)
- Flexibility and willingness to go beyond the call of duty are highly valued and rewarded.

Interested candidates, please email your resume, including references, expected salary and cover letter to ResumeAP@hoffman.com.

Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.